

Creative Digital Media – Bridging Work

Propp's Morphology of the Folktale

Students need to conduct online research into Propp's Morphology of the Folktale. They then need to select a media text of their choice, from any era, and produce a report outlining how the plot of the text either conforms to or subverts Propp's Morphology. Students need to conclude by commenting on whether or not they feel that Propp's Morphology is still relevant in modern media.